

3D Visualisations of the proposed Science Center complex in Dujmovača, Split

Figure A6.1: The northern entrance to the Science Center complex.

Figure A6.2: The eastern entrance (from the parking lot) to the Science Center complex.

Figure A6.3: The southern entrance (from the railway station) to the Science Center complex.

Figure A6.4: The western entrance to the Science Center complex and façade of Kodl's main electrical substation.

Figure A6.5: The main entrance to the Science Center, along with the microambients located between the outdoor and indoor spaces.

Figure A6.6: The main entrance to the Science Center, along with the microambients located between the outdoor and indoor spaces (viewed at night).

Figure A6.7: The open exhibition connected to the Science Center's various workshops, along with the southern facade of Kodl's main electrical substation.

Figure A6.8: The main entrance to the Science Center, along with the staircase that connects to the railway station, which is located on the first floor.

Figure A6.9: The main entrance to the Science Center, along with the outdoor details.

Figure A6.10: The main entrance to the Science Center, along with the details of the light metal constructions on the adjacent load-bearing walls.

Figure A6.11: The main entrance to the Science Center and the details of the metal construction on the ceiling.